The whole world being attacked by undetermined virus that caused people die in every hour and you are the only healthy survivor who will be able to find a vaccine that can save lives. The virus spreads very quickly, people will all die if you do not give them the vaccine within 1 hour.

The vaccine locates in the building next to you and it takes you 20 mins to get in the building. There are 3 entrances in the building and only one that leads you to the vaccine. The other two will bring you to the starting point and you won't have time to try again. However, you don't know exactly where the vaccine it. Do you want to take a risk? Which gate do you enter? (Please enter 1, 2, 3)
If user chooses right gate: Congratulations, you saved the world.
If user chooses wrong gate: Sorry but you will be the only one living in this world.

Do you want to re-play(y or press any other key to exit)?